Introduction

Every human being all over the world interacts with one another through language. There are two meanings of language, as per Sugono, et al. (2008), language is a system of arbitrary and traditional sound symbols that is used as a communication tool to express feelings and ideas, the company concept said. The second definition said that language is the utterance used by the community (ethnicity, country, region, etc.). Based on the above definition, the researcher concludes that language is a sound symbol system that represents human feelings and ideas that are embraced and used as a communication tool by a group of people.

There are many languages in the world, such as national languages, ethnic languages, and even slang languages. English is one of the most common languages used worldwide. As a native speaker of English, there are several countries. [1] that English is a foreign language and the most whispered means of communication, both because of its speaker's number and geographical areas and because of the large number of non-natives who use it for part of their international interaction.

Language is a system of traditional spoken or written symbols that individuals use to communicate with each other. To talk, to connect and to get information from other people, people need language. People will communicate with others through song at this time. Via music, his voice could be conveyed to many people, so that people could understand his feelings. A lot of songs, such as song with the theme of love, social, religion and others, could currently convey our felling.
Language is described as "a means of communication internationally" [2] It means that language is used as the medium of communication between the speaker and listener while people participate in communication. Language helps the speaker to encrypt messages, enabling the listener to re-decode the message [3]. The speaker and listener can both understand each other through language. Thus, there would be a language if there is contact. So, it is closely linked to language and communication.

Music or song also affects the functioning of the brain, especially for children who can still receive more of their brain memory.

The song is part of literature, as far as we know. Literature is a term derived from the Latin word 'Littera,' which means 'letter of the alphabet,' according to [4], there are several descriptions of literature as a field of study. Some of these meanings tend to identify literary writings that are valued as artistic works, a country's literature, or something in print. Generally, in the lyrics, each writer has plenty of creativity. There are several concepts in the post, such as liberalism, humor, praise, inspiration, education, and romance.

Literature is also one of the media that displays certain importance, one of which is the moral meaning that the author provides. The author aims to teach and deliver good morals to people through songs, poems, movies or other literary works. People have to boost their good morale and sustain it. It is a common word to say morality, but it is very difficult to suggest it in the everyday life of humans.

Moral values, particularly as adolescents as students, are now very forgotten. Since many students do something out of control. For this purpose, students need more guidance on moral principles. And that is one of the reasons why this subject is selected by the author. Moral principles are a significant law for human beings, [5], Emotion, self-control, inspiration, compassion, obligation, integrity, commitment, duty, empathy, and the promotion of respect for the reality are moral values. Morality and value not only drive the production of inspiration, but also the encouragement and energy to live and do something meaningful.

Morality is about the goodness or badness of character or disposition, or about the contrast between right and wrong. An person is said to have good or poor character or behaviour, to be virtuous according to civilized principles of right or wrong, to be able to understand right or wrong. Moreover, it can be said that morality is the effort to obtain a comprehensive understanding of the meaning of morality and what is expected of how individuals have to comply with the norm of life as a capable moral standard in society.

There are many solo singers or band members in the music industry. Maher Zein is one of the solo singers. With his meaningful values, he is a star of modern Islamic music with songs that seek to encourage and entertain people and give the world a message of peace and hope. He's got lots of famous songs and he's got two albums now, Thank You Allah and Forgive Me. Two albums are published by Maher Zein, both of which are well known worldwide because each song has several words that have the power to affect people. In his songs, he often portrays universal values or a message.

The Theoretical Implication for English Language Teaching

In teaching, strategy and approach are very critical since both will influence teaching methods that will impact the teaching learning process and fulfill the learning goals. In order to get an affective teaching learning process, teachers may use one form of approach and method or several of them together or combine them. In applying the right, effective method and methodology to their classroom, teachers need to be wise. The use of approaches and strategies depends on the students’ needs and the classroom situation.

Students learn by doing where the learning takes place because, from their own experience when reading the text, students are able to interpret text on film and create meaning based on their interpretive view and critical thinking. The use of songs as a way of teaching English literature also offers another value.

Both implied or explicit, song reflecting life experiences mainly contained moral meaning, as literature represents the experience of human life and seeks to build and enrich society by teaching it through English literature. When listening to music, learners can discover moral values. In order to enrich their knowledge and personal development, the student should take the moral meaning out of what they have learned.

A teacher must have extrinsic experience of teaching literature at junior high school. So the teacher can clearly teach it, and the students can get the lesson correct. We should make a lesson plan to teach English as an instructor. A lesson plan is what the teacher uses before he or she teaches the students’ materials. By using the lesson plan, the instructor can teach English easily.
